

Ciara Ní Shúilleabháin

Ciara has over 15 years' experience in the planning, development and implementation of creative marketing, public relations, communication and event management campaigns.

A proactive team player with proven leadership skills Ciara is currently employed as the Corporate Communications Manager with Mary Immaculate College, Limerick, where she has overall responsibility for the marketing and promotion of all College programmes and events. Other responsibilities include media relations management, internal and external communications, social media management, event management, brand management and development of alumni relations.

She took up this position in 2008 having spent the previous decade working in the arts sector, as General Manager of the Everyman Palace Theatre 2006-2007; as Chief Executive of the Cork Midsummer Festival from 2002 – 2005, Company Administrator with Druid from 1999 – 2001 and Town Hall Theatre, Galway 1998.